

VLOG certification - Ohne Gentechnik

We have recently obtained the VLOG certification. Demand for GMO-free food / dairy products is rapidly increasing in Germany. As a result, German Retail demands that Dutch dairy companies supply dairy products that meet the criteria and are VLOG certified.

VLOG (Verband Lebensmittel Ohne Gentechnik/Association of Food without Genetic Engineering) is the German association responsible for the VLOG standard and the issue of the 'Ohne Gentechnik' label. In addition, they aim to inform consumers about GMOs in food.

VLOG certification focuses on the entire chain, from feedstream, dairy farms, transport, dairy processing to shop shelves. The goal is to produce foods without the use of genetically modified organisms.

*“Regarding quality,
the smallest details matter”*
